

Amateur Radio Committee

Purpose

The Amateur Radio Committee will further science and electronics knowledge within the organization while bringing the organization to the attention of the community through public safety and emergency services event participation. The objectives of the committee will be to oversee the club, educate and license new radio amateurs, build a Makersmiths amateur radio station, participate in community amateur radio events, and enhance community safety by providing emergency communications capabilities. In addition, the club will make use of on-hand equipment to set up microwave communications projects.

Composition

Chair: Allon Stern

Members: Christopher Barnes, Jennifer Chu, Rob Gosnel, Robert Johnson, David Lang, Alexander Stern, Christa Stern, Joshua Stern, John Rehwinkel, Robert Shirley, James Waldron

Responsibilities

The Amateur Radio Committee will manage statutory and administrative requirements of the Makersmiths Radio Club and promote science and electronics education (STEM) through licensing classes, Amateur Radio in Space, antenna design, and radio build events. The committee will also hold amateur radio license examination sessions under the authority of the ARRL VEC, promote Makersmiths through participation in community radio events, and support emergency communications in the event of natural or man-made disasters.

Makersmiths Radio Club (KE4MA)

The Amateur Radio Committee is a Makersmiths Board of Directors recognized entity providing organizational structure and oversight; the Makersmiths Radio Club (KE4MA) is the Federal Communications Commission recognized and licensed element of the Amateur Radio Committee. Although there is a significant overlap in membership, the roles and responsibilities of club members differ from the roles and responsibilities of committee members.
