

Materials and Consumables Sources

Zac would like to suggest adding ROHM under the "Tools and Components" header. They design and manufacture integrated circuits (ICs), semiconductors, and other electronic components. Here is the URL for their website if you would like to have a look:

<http://www.ROHM.com/web/global/>

Zac would also like to suggest adding Online Components. They are an electronic components distributor whose site Zac works on, similar to Digi-Key and Mouser. They have over 350,000 parts in stock and are an authorized distributor for several manufacturers. Here is the URL for their website if you would like to have a look:

Feel free to send me an email if you would like any additional information!

Best,
Zac Jackson
